ANNAPOLIS WOMEN'S SERVICES

"They Had Everything To Make His First Days Special. That's Why I Chose Annapolis."

"Having my baby was a wonderful experience, and having my baby at Annapolis made it even better. They provided comprehensive, on-going prenatal care classes for my husband and me. And when the time came, I had my baby in their home-like birthing room, where both labor and delivery took place. And the doctors and the nurses, well, everyone was just wonderful. Having my baby at Annapolis made a special event even more special."

ROMULUS NEWS DIGEST

Veterans Memorial ground-breaking planned for Monday

Groundbreaking for the Romulus Veterans Memorial has been set for 3 p.m. Monday.

The memorial was the idea of members of the Romulus Rotary Club who continue to solicit support and suggestions in their endeavors.

"We're looking for donations of any size to help with the project," said Bill Crane, Rotary Club president-elect.

Construction of the 12-foot monument is expected to begin next spring and the club hopes to unveil the finished product July 4, 1992.

Any donations or suggestions may be addressed to Crane at 941-9200.

Donations sought for firemans ball

The Romulus Fire Department Stations One and Three will be sponsoring their 35th Annual Firemans Ball Oct. 19, 1991.

They are currently seeking donations from area businesses to use as door prizes for the guests.

"Your participation in this event will be gratefully appreciated and it will work as free advertisement for your business which will be announced before each gift," stated Dawn Kelly, committee chairperson for the ball.

Money collected for this event will go to help purchase flowers for families of the fireman and for refreshments for the firefighters throughout the year.

Crafters solicited for upcoming fair

The Romulus Arts Commission has scheduled its annual Arts and Crafts Fair Saturday.

The event will take place in the Romulus City Hall parking lot from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

The ROTC will be on hand to present colors, a cake walk and raffle will take place and food will be served.

Money collected at the event will be used to further the efforts of the Romulus Arts Commission.

"We want to bring more art into the lives of those in the area and hope to use the money raised at this event toward bringing a play or musical to the area which will appeal to the youth," said commission member Gloria Chandler.

More than 40 crafters are already expected to attend the event. More information is available at 941-2678.

age 4, Jason has spent most of his life undergoing bone marrow tests, spinal taps and different forms of chemotherapy.

He went into remission and was out of treatment for one and one-half years, but in January of this year, more leukemia cells were found. Although he has since gone into remission again, he must undergo treatment for another three years, his mother said.

He is currently taking chemotherapy at home and continues to report to the doctor once a month for more advanced treatment.

"Jason's a great kid," said Smith. "I'm really pleased with how much everyone cares."

With special permission from Dansby, Smith drove Jason to the check presentation ceremony in a squad car with sirens and lights on.

When asked how he felt, Jason said: "It's pretty cool that they did all that for me. My mom said I could use some of the money so maybe I'll get a snowmobile or a remote control car or a four-wheeler..."

CATS prowl through library

By AMANDA WILSON
ANP Staff Writer

CATS are prowling through the Romulus Library.

Electronic, computerized catalog systems, referred to as CATS, have been invited in and are pouncing on "the ways of the past."

"It's so much quicker and more efficient to use a computer than it was to look through a card catalog," said Frances Zilka, librarian at the Romulus library.

And that's not all the computers are good for.

Two of the systems, known as Bib CATS are designed specifically to allow an individual to find a book by author, title or subject. The system then displays biographical information on the book such as author, title, year and date of publication.

"Pages on screen can then be printed out for easier reference," said Diane Hazen, director of the Romulus Library.

The third system set up for public use is known as the "Intelligent CAT," according to Hazen. That system has all of the abilities of the bib CAT plus some additional qualities.

"In addition to the biographical information, the Intelligent CAT shows whether or not the book is carried by the Romulus library, a nearby library, or any of the 60 libraries in our Library Federation," Hazen said. "It also allows the user to take notes, and print them all at once so that they can have a list of the information they need for easier reference."

In addition, the system will soon also have the ability to show a map of the library and a schedule of events that will be taking place throughout each month.

For even further efficiency, the library also has two on-line computers for the librarians. These devices, attached on telephone lines to the main computer located at the Wayne Oakland Library Federation

Woman stoops to fowl play

By AMANDA WILSON
ANP Staff Writer

Duck, Duck Goose is a game Diane Hazen of Romulus plays every day.

Owner of about 30 geese as well as a number and variety of other ducks and chickens, Hazen considers herself "mom" to "everybody."

"A lot of them I've raised from birth and they've patterned to me, which means they follow me around like I'm their mother," she said.

But she certainly doesn't mind.

"I love them all and I wouldn't give them up for anything," she said.

Each morning she gets up bright and early and goes out in search of eggs. She collects about a dozen a day, and sometimes has to look in the "strangest places," she said.

"The geese always lay eggs in particular areas and for the most part, so do the chickens. It's the ducks I have to worry about. They're so lazy that I've had to fish their eggs out of the pond because they couldn't take the time to get out of the water to come and lay an egg."

And that's not the most unusual scenario. She spoke about the time she had Peking ducks which she described as even lazier.

"I would come out in the morning to find their eggs in the lawn, on the bushes and just about anywhere else I looked. It was like having an Easter egg hunt every morning!"

Does she sell the eggs?

"No. I keep some, but give most to my neighbor. She's a great cook and she loves to bake. I give her the eggs and she gives me a lot of good cooking in return."

She doesn't sell the birds either.

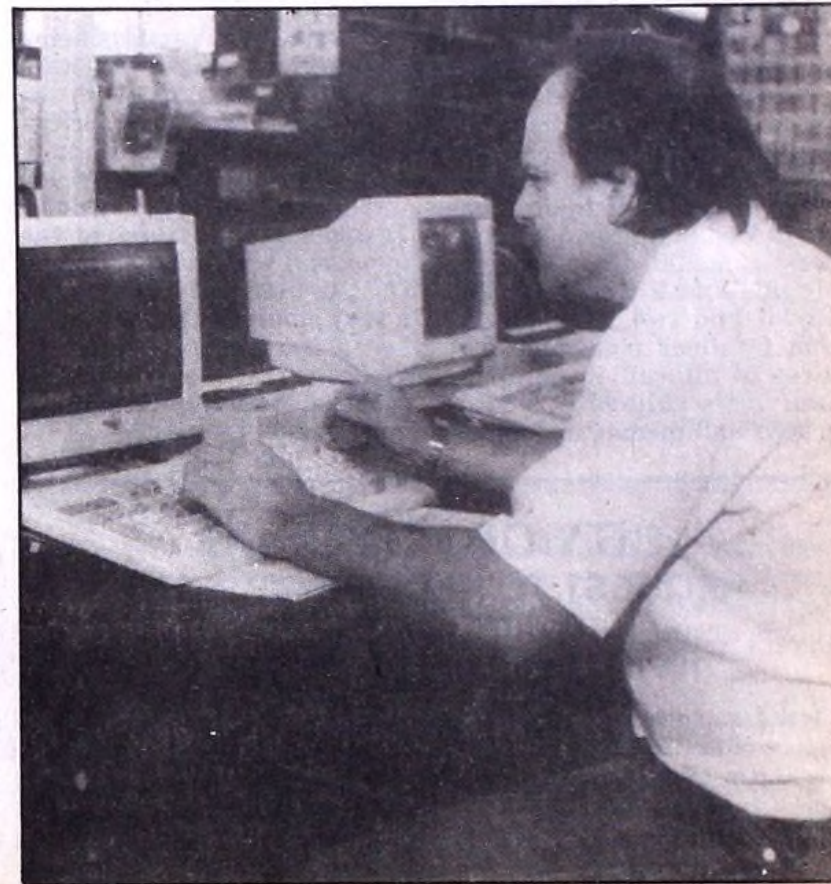

"I sometimes give them away, but I don't raise them to sell. I care about most of them too much anyway," she said.

Hazen got into the "business" when she came home from lunch one day to find 56 chicks, 26 ducks and four geese in her basement. Her husband had seen them at the feed mill and couldn't resist bringing them home, she said.

"I was shocked at first but I've certainly never regretted it," she said. She has since given many of them names and says they all come when called.

She said that may be because she feeds them about 400 pounds of corn a month and at least one loaf of bread a day.

"Although none of their wings are clipped they rarely try to fly away because they've got it too good," she said.

Local student named for leadership ability

By AMANDA WILSON
ANP Staff Writer

Andrea Brown is a young woman who has learned that she can make a difference.

That was only one of the lessons Brown learned as the first delegate from Romulus Senior High School to the Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation (HOBY) Michigan East Leadership Seminar this summer.

Attending lectures with more than 200 other outstanding high school sophomores, Brown enjoyed the unique learning experience and intends to bring a message back to her fellow students through her actions.

"I learned a lot about myself

I'd like to use my ability to help other people- to let them know their all important in their own way.

— Andrea Brown

and I understand better how important it is to be a leader," said Brown. "I'd like to use my ability to help other people- to let them know their all important in their own way."

During the four-day seminar this summer at Albion College, students learned that they possess special traits, skills and leadership instincts that they can make a difference in their lives and the lives of others.

"We heard seminars about keeping self-esteem, about the bad effects of drugs, about not letting peer pressure get to us and other classes about how to use our ability to make a difference and that's what I intend to do," Brown said.

They learned to lead by example, to speak out for others, to lead a group in making plans for action and to share decision making with other members of the group. They learned how important it is to speak for themselves, to be responsible for an informed opinion and how to better understand the American economic system and democratic process so that they can encourage active participation in designing the world of tomorrow.

"During each seminar we were divided into different groups so that we had a chance to discuss what we learned," Brown said. "It really was a great experience."

Hugh O'Brian believed that every person is created as the steward of his or her own destiny with great power for a specific purpose: to share with others, through service, a reverence for life in the spirit of love. According to Brown, that point was well made.

"It made me think a lot about my future and about what I can do to help the future of others," she said. Which is exactly what she intends to do. Her career goal is to become and agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation and she sees nothing stopping her from pursuing that goal.

"Andrea is one of the most active young ladies I've ever been involved with," said Thomas Dolan, principal of Romulus Senior High. "She is refined and focused and I have no doubt she'll be successful in her future."

Seatbelts save motorists money as well as lives

By AMANDA WILSON
ANP Staff Writer

Money lost due to crime cost Michigan residents billions of dollars a year.

According to Officer Rick Schwartz of the Romulus Police Department, crimes like burglary and aggravated assault cost residents some $2.4 billion a year in lost work days, insurance costs, property damage and other expenses.

But amazingly, the most expensive crime in America today is not burglary or aggravated assault or even rape or robbery. It's not wearing a seat belt.

"Each year, traffic accidents cost us about $7.14 billion - nearly three times the cost of larceny, burglary, robbery, auto theft, assault and rape combined," Schwartz said.

"That cost certainly wouldn't be that high if people wore their seat belts."

Police and ambulance costs, compensation for work days lost, property damage cost, plus pain and suffering are all less-with a lesser degree of injuries.

"And if people wore their seat belts, there would be a lesser extent of injuries," Schwartz said.

According to statistics, about 70 out of every 100 people killed in car accidents die because they're not wearing their belt. So why don't they wear them?

"Some are hard-headed, some just don't care and others too worried about the rare incidents where wearing a seat belt can be detrimental," Schwartz said.

But even though there are many still not complying with the law, Schwartz is happy to report that the number of people wearing belts has been on the rise this year.

"By buckling up, Michigan motorists could save about $3.5 billion a year. That would free Michigan police to go after the kind of criminals who should be behind bars...not behind belts."

Tour uncovers landfill projects

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER

Folks who wonder how a modern landfill operates will have an opportunity to tour the Envotech facility on Sunday afternoon.

The facility will open at noon and guided site tours will be scheduled in air conditioned buses through 5 p.m. Visitors can view displays and exhibits, and free refreshments will be provided, according to Envotech officials.

Guided tours will bring visitors to:

• Wayne Disposal Landfill, a non-hazardous operation as well as being the only licensed hazardous waste landfill in the state. The facility employs state-of-the-art waste treatment equipment on site to protect the environment.

• Michigan Disposal, Inc., one of the largest waste processing companies in the nation. The facility processes more than 500 tons of industrial and municipal sludges, liquids, powders and dust each day.

• Wayne Energy Recovery, Inc. "mines" methane gas from closed sanitary landfills and converts the gas into commercially usable heat and electricity.

• Willow Run Farms, Inc. operates a hydroponic greenhouse where specialty produce is grown in nutrient-enriched water. Seedlings are grown in a climate-controlled greenhouse without herbicides or insecticides.

All of the firms are related companies which strive to protect the environment by providing comprehensive, integrated waste management and environmental protection technologies, according to a company spokesman.

Cameras are permitted on site and children are welcome to tour the facility, Envotech officials said.

Hero takes medals from mothballs

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

For more than two decades, Vietnam veteran David Jakokes kept his medals and memorabilia packed away, but now the Van Buren Township supervisor proudly displays them in his office.

"I came home, put my uniform in a box and forgot about it," Jakokes said. "It was a time of anti-war demonstrations and protests, and there was a lot of negative feeling toward veterans. In fact, I was told not to put 'Vietnam veteran' on a job application, because it would hurt my employment chances."

It took the outpouring of patriotism and support for the participants in Operation Desert Storm, that prompted Jakokes to take a second look at his medals and to reflect on his experiences in Vietnam.

Today, he displays the Bronze Star, Air Force Commendation Medal, Vietnam Cross of Gallantry, Vietnam Service Medal, Vietnam Campaign Medal, National Defense Service Medal, Good Conduct Medal, Small Arms Expert Medal and two Presidential Unit Citations plus some pictures of himself in uniform. Sadly, his collage of photographs and medals includes a snapshot of a buddy who was killed in action.

"Missing from the medals is a Purple Heart, although I was wounded. One day, I was wounded three times in different battles, but they were all superficial," Jakokes said. "On one occasion a medic dug a piece of shrapnel out of my hand with pliers and handed me gauze to wrap it, so he could treat more seriously wounded men. In our base camp we had 50 percent casualties - killed and wounded - in one year."

Jakokes served in Air Force Special Forces in Vietnam in 1967 and 1968 and worked in ground communications with a multi-service unit. He served in a river patrol boat and was a squadron leader, or sapper, whose duty it was to secure breaches in the camp perimeter.

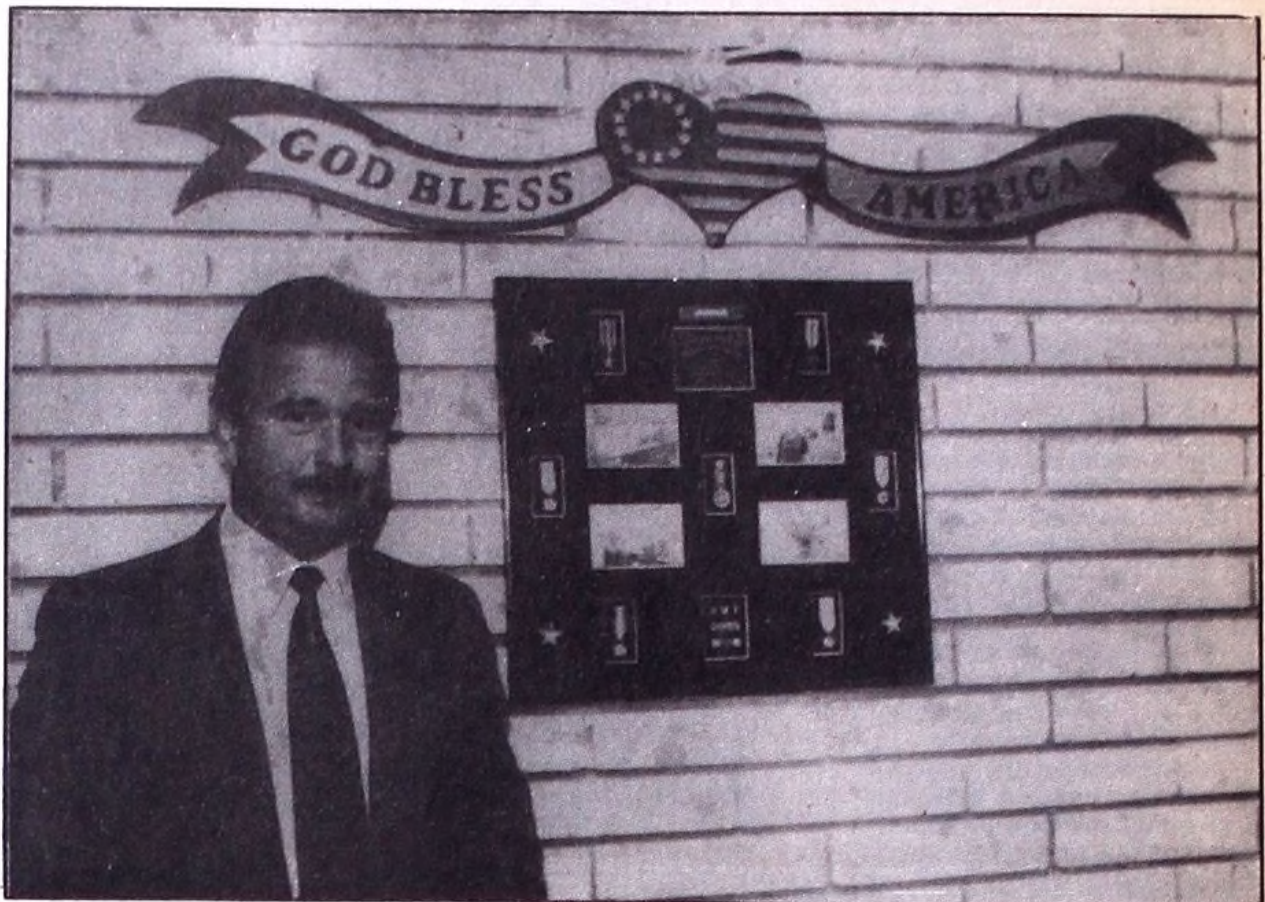

"I was always proud of being an American and serving in the Armed Services, but with the groundswell of support for Operation Desert Storm, I finally was able to share that pride with other Americans," Jakokes said. "I visited the memorial wall in Washington, D.C., in 1989, and found it to be a very emotional experience. I lost a tremendous number of my classmates from high school in the war, including my best friend.

Jakokes wrote personal letters to all of the Belleville area men stationed in the Persian Gulf area.

"I felt it was important to write letters to the troops to let them know we supported their efforts and we were standing behind them," Jakokes said. Unlike the flood of letters from home and the giant parades to welcome returning Operation Desert Storm veterans, Vietnam veterans were scorned by the public following their homecoming.

"I remember coming home after three years in Vietnam too weak to even carry my bag. I was dragging it through the airport at San Francisco, when a hippie shouted in my face, 'How many women and children did you kill?' I was glad to be home, but I was angry," Jakokes said. "That's when I went home and put my uniform in a box. Vietnam veterans have been like a unique club. No one else seemed to understand our plight. When I came home, I joined the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Disabled American Veterans - my injuries qualified me for it at the time - and the Vietnam Veterans of American Chapter 310."

Jakokes has worked with the veterans organizations and area residents to erect a Veterans Memorial to honor tri-community servicemen. Ground breaking for the memorial was conducted Saturday in Horizon Park, and a memorial garden honoring veterans has been established in Van Buren Park.

Contrary to the general perception, Jakokes saw no drug use among the men with whom he served. On the other hand, when bodies of enemy casualties were searched, drugs were often discovered, the former sergeant said. As for child killing, only one vivid memory remains in his mind.

"Our unit adopted a Catholic orphanage, and we wrote to our families at home to send things for the children. While we were delivering the gifts to the children, we were observed by the Viet Cong. Later, when we planned to make another trip to the orphanage, we were told that the Viet Cong had killed or run off all of the residents of the orphanage in retaliation for accepting help from the Americans," Jakokes said.

"In country, there is a tremendous hollow feeling. People are getting killed around you, and you fear that you'll never see your family again. The only way to cope is to immerse yourself in your work, and not think about your mortality," Jakokes said.

"While I was on river patrol we had two five-man crews on every mission, and one of the 10 would be killed or wounded in every combat. When I returned from one river patrol, they counted 100 shots on my shield. I counted 11 times when I could have died, but I made it home.

"My experiences have taught me respect every man and woman who served in Vietnam or in Operation Desert Storm, and also taught me to do the best job I can do under any circumstances," Jakokes said. "After 22 years, it feels good to share my pride in America and its servicemen and women."

County executive seeks to make airport user-friendly

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

In addition to increasing revenue from Metro Airport in 1992, Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara would like to make the facility more "user friendly."

If the county executive's plan goes into effect next year, information people wearing "Ask Me" buttons will be available to guide travelers to the correct arrival and departure areas and help them avoid unnecessary waits in line.

McNamara said he is seeking more business for the facility. For example, he said, an airline from The Netherlands is expressing interest in utilizing the facility.

"One 747 landing at Metro means $1 million to the economy," McNamara said.

The county executive listed his 1992 goals as finalizing a downtown Detroit stadium plan, implementing a new program for young offenders, working with the courts to move people through the criminal justice system faster and developing a medical care system for the underemployed.

McNamara told the Southern Wayne County Chamber of Commerce last week that he has a plan that could reduce the cost of dealing with youthful offenders from $42,000 annually for each offender.

The county executive's plan calls for intense probation and enrollment in drug abuse programs or job skills training for youthful offenders at an estimated cost of $13,000. If the county program is not successful, then the youth would be sent to a state boot camp or other facility at a cost to the county of $55,000. Currently, there are no alternatives to the state facilities, McNamara said.

Further savings for Wayne County can be had by the faster movement of defendants through the county courts, he said. Because pre-adjudicated felons are the responsibility of the county, they must be housed until their trial date in the Wayne County Jail, and when the courts are backlogged, the jails become overcrowded.

"If we have more than 1850 prisoners in the jail, we have to move some out, or we have to build more jails," the county executive said.

McNamara plans to introduce a plan to the county commissioners to provide the underemployed with a similar medical plan to the one which is provided to indigents. Many workers have minimum-wage jobs and no health care insurance, and the result has been that some have quit their jobs during medical emergencies to qualify for county assistance.

McNamara also sees a need to boost trade with Canada under the Free Trade Agreement, or business could shift to Buffalo or New York.

CITY OF ROMULUS APPENDIX A - ZONING AMENDMENT 1.120

An Ordinance to Amend the Official Zoning Map of the City of Romulus by Rezoning a 13.7 Acres of the Property Located on Cogswell Road between Van Born and Ecorse from M-1 (Light Industrial) to M-2 (General Industrial).

THE CITY OF ROMULUS ORDAINS:

Section 1. SHORT TITLE: This Ordinance shall be known and cited as the Amended Zoning Ordinance.

Section 2. The Official Zoning Map of the City of Romulus is hereby amended to rezone the following from M-1 (Light Industrial) to M-2 (General Industrial):

A part of the W1/2 of the NE1/4 of Section 6, T. 35, R.9E, City of Romulus, Wayne County Michigan, being more particularly described as follows:

Beginning at a point located south 1215.20 feet along the north-south 1/4 line of section 6 (nominal centerline of Cogswell Road) and N 89 degree 18'02"E 473.01 feet from the N1/4 corner of section 6; then N 89 degrees 18'02"E 851.25 feet; thence S 00 degree 11'12"E 700.02 feet; thence S 89 degrees 18'02"W 853.53 feet; thence North 700.04 feet to the point of beginning containing 13.69758 acres of land and being subject to all easements of record.

Section 3. Except as herein modified the said zoning ordinance shall remain in full force and effect.

Section 4. CONFLICTING PROVISIONS REPEALED: Should any section, clause or provision of this ordinance be declared by the Court to be invalid, the same shall not affect the validity of this ordinance as a whole or any part thereof, other than the part so declared to be invalid.

Section 5. EFFECTIVE DATE: This ordinance shall become effective immediately upon publication in the official newspaper of general circulation.

I, Linda R. Choate, CMC, Clerk for the City of Romulus, Michigan do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an ordinance duly adopted by the Romulus City Council at its regular meeting held on the 26th day of August, 1991.

TRAVEL TIPS

Travel is a subject which interests most people whether they're the "armchair" or "get-up-and-go" variety of traveler. We are going to provide this People's Places column on a regular basis to keep you informed about every aspect of travel and we hope that you'll find them interesting and informative. Of course, we also hope you'll also think of us when you're ready to travel. Travel agents are the last bargain left in today's economy, but it's amazing how many people don't know how we operate or that our services are absolutely FREE! Travel agents book 87% of all air travel. Agents are paid a commission from the airlines, and other suppliers, which saves them from having to invest in making all of their reservations themselves. That is why it doesn't cost you one penny more to buy your airline tickets, tours or cruises from us. We'll book your car rentals and make your hotel reservations too. Inasmuch as we represent ALL companies impartially, we'll also find you the most competitive prices. All major credit cards allowed by the suppliers are accepted.

We travel frequently ourselves to gain first hand knowledge so we can give you some helpful hints you won't find in guide books. We have the latest reference books and trade publications on every area of the world. We also use the comments of our clients - favorable and unfavorable - to remain up-to-date on changes.

One phone call or visit to our office is all it takes to see what a difference our knowledge and service makes. We treat every business and vacation trip with the individual attention it deserves and assure you that in today's impersonal world, there's still a place where service counts and the customer is king.

3 strikes and out

For the second time this week, a group attempting to recall three members of the Wayne-Westland school board was rebuffed in an effort to have language on petitions charging them with wrongdoing approved by a three-member county elections board.

A spokesman for the group has vowed they will try again. How sad.

While we are certainly in favor of the diligence, dedication and tenacity this group has exhibited, and envy them the zeal with which this cause has been pursued, we think that perhaps it is time to accept the decisions which have been handed down by the county board.

This panel does not rule on the merit of the petitions as submitted, only on the language and the rules of procedure as specified by the law. Whether the charges as alleged have any merit is considered a moot point by these individuals and one which should only be decided by voters.

It is that very decision we think should be made at the polls. We disagree with this group in their efforts, no matter how pure of motive, to continue to strive for a special election for the purpose of removing these three board members from office. There will be a school election in June, and one of the board members selected as a target of the recall, Kathleen Chorbajian, has already stated that she will not be a candidate.

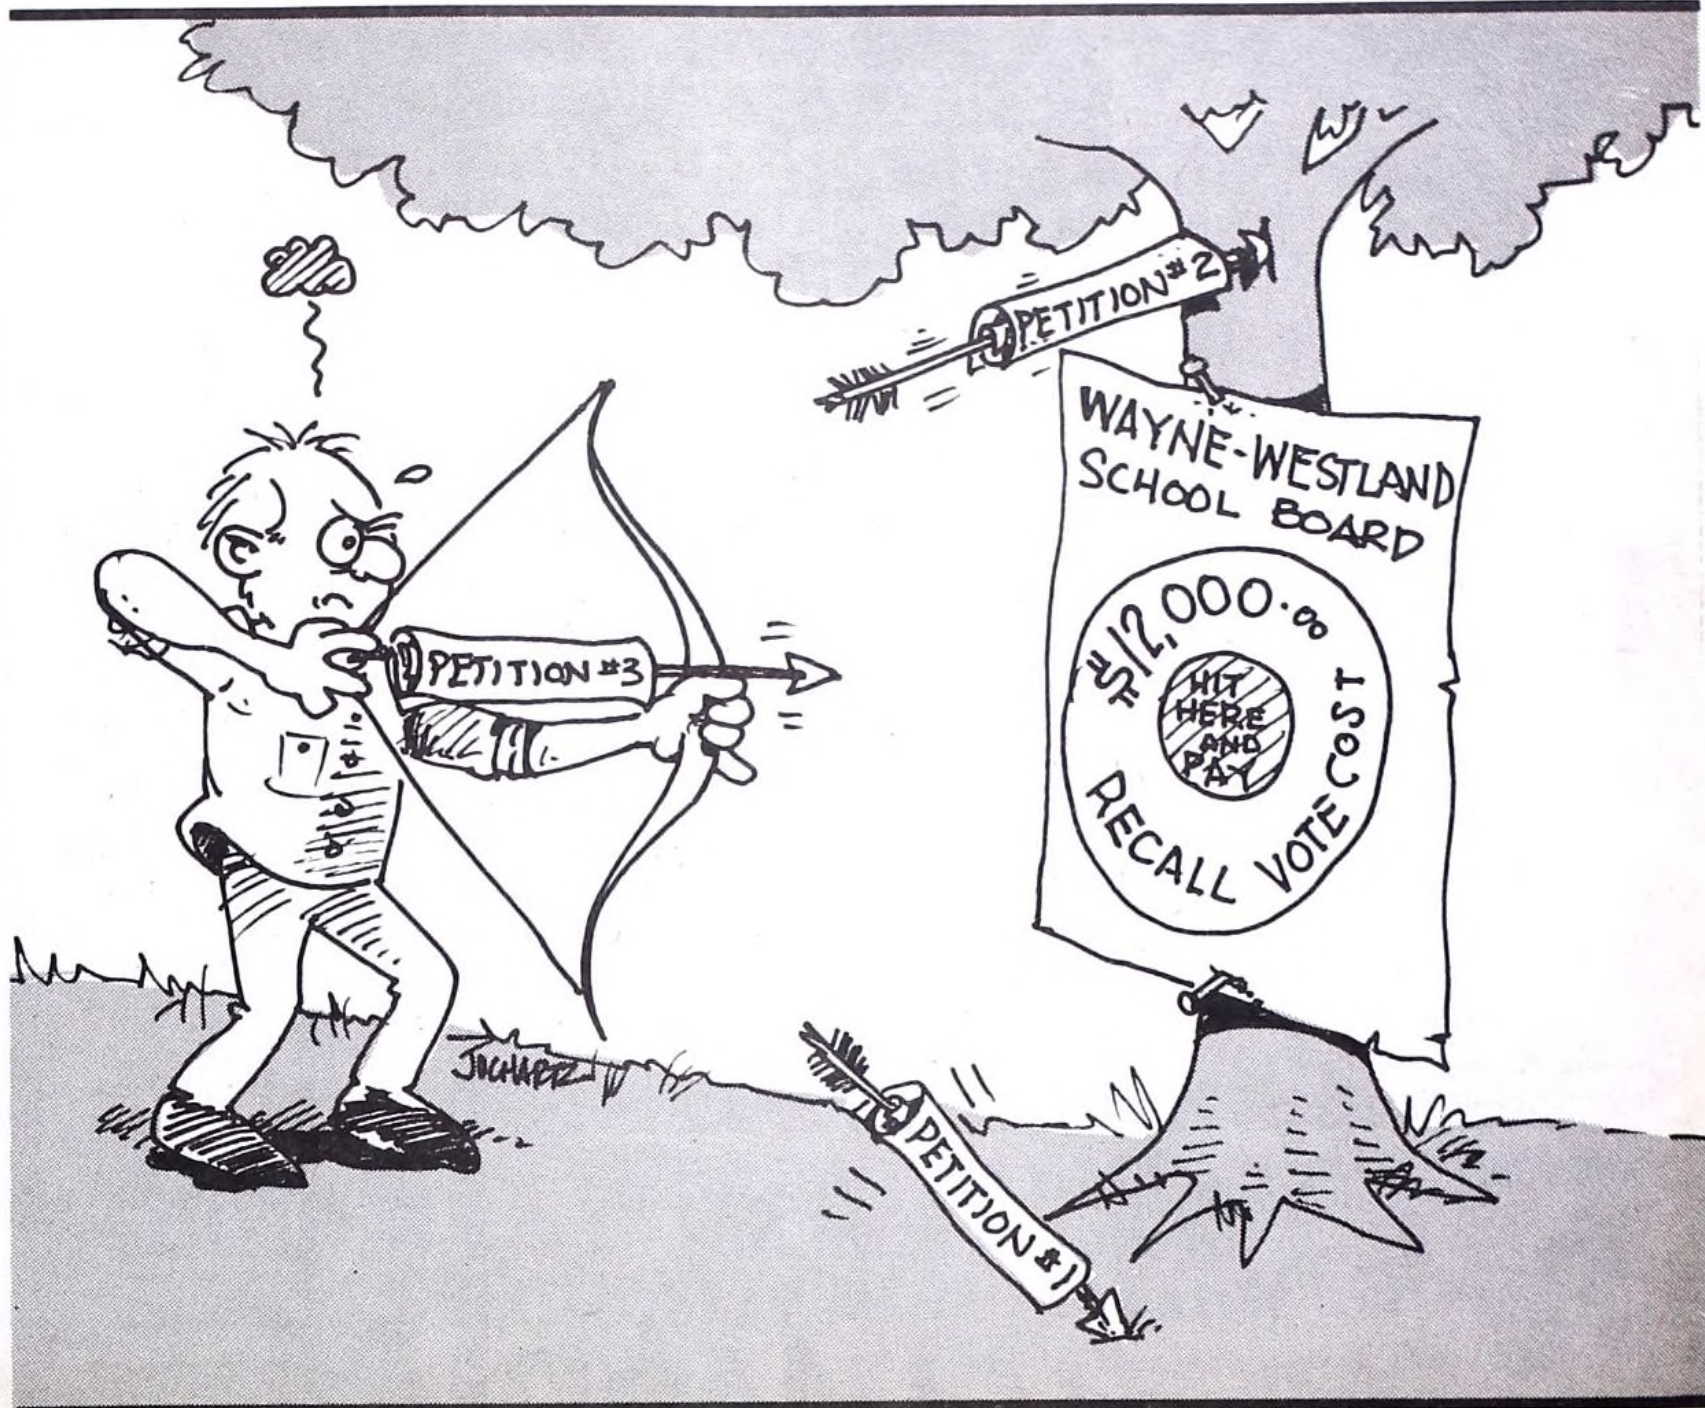

An election of this type will cost taxpayers approximately $12,000. One of the complaints this recall group has launched is the issue of teachers' pay increases and the failure of these board members to represent the best interests of taxpayers. We hardly think a superfluous and expensive election is in the best interests of the taxpayers who will have the opportunity to select two candidates in the June election.

The other board members threatened with recall, Andrew Spisak and Leonard Posey will not be on the ballot in June, but they will, in fact, be subject to the scrutiny and choice of voters as their terms end. We would strongly suggest that it is at that time that voters either reaffirm them as members of the board or opt to select another candidate to serve.

While the members of the recall group purport to represent the best interests of the students and taxpayers in the district, it may be time for them to channel their energy into a more productive and effective effort into improving the schools.

We urge them to re-examine their goals and attempt to find a means to accomplish their aim for the betterment of the district without the recall effort.

We would urge reconciliation rather than recall.

Gun control not supported by all

To the editor:

I am writing to you in hopes of dispelling the far-flung myth that law enforcement officers support gun control. The police administration on Capitol Hill, most of who haven't been on the street for decades, do not speak for the majority of rank and file police.

Take it from someone who knows. Gun bans and other harsh anti-gun laws directed at lawful gun owners ultimately do nothing to reduce violent crime. Semi-automatic gun bans in some states put paw-abiding gun owners at risk of arrest and prosecution for refusing to register, surrender or otherwise dispose of their guns. Now a similar nationwide ban is proposed. I want to arrest criminals, not lawful citizens made into common criminals by means of misguided laws. That's why I oppose semi-auto gun ban proposals and other worthless anti-gun laws masquerading as crime control.

My job would be a lot easier if our elected officials would dedicate more time, money an effort toward developing anti-crime tools which legislate against the criminal not law-abiding citizens. Let's cut out the easy parole and courtroom injustice and start enforcing the tough laws already on the books.

We need stronger laws across the board for anyone involved in a crime with any type of weapon, not the people obtaining a gun under legal laws.

Superintendent outlines program

With the successful passage of the millage in June, school officials were able to purchase a new reading series for the elementary schools. The new series is the first to be purchased in more than 10 years. The following is a letter sent to all parents in the Wayne-Westland district.

As another school year begins, we want to take this opportunity to welcome your child and you to a year that promises to be very exciting. We are pleased to introduce the new elementary literacy program Houghton Mifflin Reading: The Literature Experience.

We recognize and share your conviction that teaching children to read is the most important goal we have before us. The design and philosophy of The Literature Experience provides teachers with an important new resource to attain our district goal.

"Literacy instruction will develop strategic, independent learners who understand that the goal of reading is comprehension: Literal, inferential and applied." As we begin to work with The Literature Experience, you are going to see some changes in the reading program. Your child will be:

- Reading literature and books with longer, more challenging selections.
- Involved in composing and editing his or her own writing.
- Taught the skills more efficiently through the literature: skills will be prioritized and clustered.
- Participating in reading instruction with the total class as well as within small flexible groups.
- Involved in reading and writing activities in which language and thinking are integrated.

The community's support of the millage has made this new program possible. We look forward to working to assure that your child not only learns how to read but also learns to enjoy reading for a lifetime.

City manager wanted

To the editor:

To anyone within reading distance of this newspaper who is considering applying for the job of City Manager of Wayne (Tom Daily is retiring), I have a little bit of information for you: Show your present address as someplace in New Mexico or Ketchikan, Alaska because, from past experience, the city has shown a desire to hire department heads from cities around the country and have the taxpayers move them into Wayne or Farmington Hills.

You may also wish to state in your application that you would like to be moved to Mount Clemens or Kalamazoo, due to their "good Boy Scout facilities" or "more and better nudist facilities".

If you declare yourself to be a local citizen living in Wayne and plan on continuing to live in Wayne, your chances are pretty slim.

It is very confusing to me that, of the approximately 25,000 residents in Wayne, the city fathers cannot find one with enough ability to fill the position. It is my hope that a good turnout at the upcoming general election may partially resolve this problem.

Patrick O'Leary
Wayne

Congratulations

This week, members of the Westland City Council took action to approve the appointment of Diane Abbott as cable coordinator within the city.

Since March, Abbott has been unofficially managing the four-person department which oversees the cable television programming for the city, the public access programming and the publication of the city newsletter. She and the staff have been operating virtually without supervision or an official manager for six months.

While a much more experienced or qualified expert might have been found to assume this responsibility, Abbott has demonstrated both her qualifications and ability to do the job.

We congratulate Abbott on her appointment and the members of the council on the decision to take advantage of her unique blend of professionalism and devotion to the community.

An idea that registers

A recent proposal by members of the Republican party allowing same-day registration for voters in Presidential primary elections certainly seems to have merit.

Throughout our area, city and township clerks have protested the extreme cost and confusion surrounding the Presidential primary which provides that only voters who have declared a party affiliation and registered 30-days previously can cast a primary ballot.

We think same-day registration will bring more voters to the polls in these primaries and that end is certainly worth the effort.

1991 NBD HOUSING CONFERENCE

A Home Is The American Dream. Finding Affordable Housing Is A Nightmare.

To help solve this problem, NBD Bank is sponsoring the 1991 Housing Conference on Saturday, September 28, at the University of Detroit Mercy Conference Center. Conference workshops are designed to help Metro Detroit:

INDIVIDUALS

- determine how much they can afford
- learn how to buy a home and sources of financing

CHURCH LEADERS

- start their own housing development projects
- build and stabilize neighborhoods

COMMUNITY GROUPS

- acquire and rehabilitate property
- obtain financing for development projects

REALTORS AND DEVELOPERS

- transform housing development into profits
- obtain innovative financing

Workshops will be led by community leaders, developers, legal experts, representatives from Detroit, HUD, and local universities, and NBD officers. The cost is $15 for the first person from an organization, and $10 for others from the same organization, or for individuals. Scholarships are available. To register before September 20, call 225-3492.

A home is the American Dream. Let's turn those dreams into realities.

The right bank can make a difference.

Spooky stories sought

Insights into future happenings are everyday experiences for a Van Buren Township resident.

Frankie Jean Clemens, who credits her clairvoyance to her part-Cherokee heritage, claims to have foreseen the turmoil in the Soviet Union which resulted in the bids for autonomy from the individual republics.

"The Tigers' standing is too close to call this year, but I see them winning the pennant in 1992," Clemens said. "Tiger Manager Sparky Anderson will resign in 1992 due to ill health."

Clemens believes James P. Hoffa Jr., son of the slain labor leader, will be elected president of the Teamsters Union. Although his efforts appear to be temporarily halted, he eventually will assume the post, she said.

"I see a shocking event happening in the U.S. soon, perhaps in 1992. The event will come as a surprise and shock the population," Clemens said.

In 1990, she predicted a very close race between James Blanchard and John Engler.

These days,
the man of the house

isn't always a man.

There are over 143,000 single-parent families in Southeastern Michigan.

In the past ten years, the number of single-parent households has grown dramatically. In fact, at least 10 percent more kids than ever before are growing up with only one parent at home.

The United Way needs your donation to help local organizations like Big Brothers and Big Sisters give support and companionship to Detroit area kids. Your contributions also go to support the over 150 agencies close to home working, among other things, to fight substance abuse, counsel troubled youths and teach the illiterate to read.

So when you give, give generously to the United Way Torch Drive. And watch your investment grow.

"I Wanted To Be A Good Mother Even Before My Baby Was Born. That's Why I Chose Oakwood."

"I knew that in order to be a good mother to my baby, there was a lot I needed to learn. That's why we went to Oakwood's Women and Children's Health Care Center before my baby was born. They provided us with comprehensive, on-going prenatal care classes, and physicians who specialize in the latest in prenatal medicine. And when the time came to give birth, we had our very own mother/baby nurse. We even had their Labor, Delivery, and Recovery Rooms to make the event special for our whole family. I'm glad I chose Oakwood. They helped me be a good mother to my baby, before we even met."

This year more than 5,000 babies will be delivered at the Oakwood Women and Children's Health Care Center, a Level III perinatal center that's part of the Oakwood health care system, one of the largest health care systems in Michigan, with six hospitals, more than 30 local health care and specialty centers and more than 1,000 physicians. ## Eagles are undefeated

Romulus crushes Garden City, seeks No. 4 at Brooklyn

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Is this the "dream season" that Romulus High football fans and players have been dreaming of? The Eagles can offer three excellent reasons they believe that this could be the year that they've been waiting for. After a 0-9 season in 1990, Coach Dan Henry's Eagles have come on strong and strung together three consecutive victories. Their latest victim, Garden City, bowed to Henry's troops, 19-2, Friday night. And if the Eagles' string is to stretch it will have to come at the expense of Brooklyn Columbia, a team that "always give us a battle," Henry said. "Brooklyn is 0-2 this year, but that record doesn't reflect the team's capabilities. They can hurt you in many ways," Henry added. "Also, it's their homecoming." But Henry couldn't say enough about the defensive effort his team displayed against Garden City. "We only gave up a total of 83 yards rushing and 23 passing. We played excellent defense." And the offense got the job done, too. Quarterback Bob Bergeron fired 13 passes and connected on seven for 92 of the team's 237 total yards. Bergeron broke a scoreless first-quarter when he went in one a 1-yard sneak early in the second frame. The Romulus TD was touched off by a blocked field goal. It took Bergeron 16 plays, which included a 30-yard pass reception by split end Robb Thompson, to go the distance of 59 yards. The Eagles got off to a fast start in the second half as Henry Gilchrist returned the kickoff 15 yards to the Garden City 45. After Bergeron and Chris Evans combined for a 14-yard pass, the Eagles came right back with fullback Brian Helka, who plowed his way through the Garden City defense and scored from 4 yards out. Bergeron elected to go for the two-point conversion, and fell short. Up 12-0, Romulus saw their lead diminish by two when a bad snap wound up in their end zone and in Garden City hands. However, with 1:25 remaining, the Eagles put on a midfield march that culminated in a 5-yard touchdown pass from Bergeron to tailback Reggie Clemons. That TD also was set up by Rob Graham's fumble recovery. Clemons, along with his touchdown, chipped in 81 yards on 18 rushes and Helka contributed 63 yards on 17 tries. Romulus received outstanding efforts from Mario Johnson, a safety, who accounted for four solos and three assists and line-backer Eric Love, who had three unassisted tackles and four assists.

Wheatley A star reborn

By DOUG CHURCH
ANP Staff Writer

Tyrone Wheatley is not accustomed to standing along the sidelines for very long. Yet there he was Saturday afternoon in his first home appearance in a Michigan maize and blue uniform playing the role of backup tailback to sophomore Ricky Powers to perfection.

He stood no more than 5 yards away from coach Gary Moeller when the offense was on the field, waiting for his number to be called.

When the defense took over, there was Wheatley on the bench in the offensive huddle charting strategy with coaches and teammates or loosening up with freshman wide receiver Felman Malveaux.

And when the final seconds ticked away on the Wolverines' first victory over Notre Dame in five years, 24-14, Wheatley joined in the joyful celebration at midfield, just like he did after leading Dearborn Heights Robichaud to the state Class B high school championship last year.

Wheatley has brought his lean 6-1, 215-pound frame and athletic resume full of talent and virtues to Michigan but none may be more valuable at this point than patience.

He ran for 37 yards on eight carries, including a 17-yard burst in the Wolverines' season-opening victory at Boston College Sept. 21 but saw just limited action Saturday, rushing three times for 5 yards, catching a 10-yard pass from quarterback Elvis Grbac and returning a kickoff 19 yards following the first Notre Dame touchdown.

"I know I'm just a freshman and I'm not rushing things," Wheatley said. "If the chance comes, sure I'm going to take it but patience is important for true freshmen to have. I know my chance will come and I'll be there."

Moeller's original plan was to use his backup tailbacks enough to take some pressure and wear off Powers. But following Powers' 164-yard performance Saturday, that philosophy has undergone some reconsideration.

"He just had to go," said Moeller of Powers, whose 38 carries were the third most rushing attempts in a game by one player in Michigan history. "He's the workhorse and he's going to have a long season."

This is fine with Wheatley, who stands ready in case of injury or fatigue to Powers.

"There's no one particular play or scheme that I'm in," Wheatley said. "They just want to get me into the rotation early so I can feel out the game."

Tyrone Wheatley (6) hopes to emerge as a Wolverine star. ANP photo by Bob Kalmbach/Michigan Sports Information

"If the chance comes, sure I'm going to take it but patience is important for true freshmen to have. I know my chance will come and I'll be there."

— Tyrone Wheatley
U-M Tailback

The lack of returning depth at the Michigan tailback position has given Wheatley the chance to move up. Last year, Powers beat out veteran Allen Jefferson to be the backup to Jon Vaughn.

Being comfortable in his role with the team has allowed Wheatley to enjoy the emotions and thrilling experiences associated with Michigan football, including that first-time walk Saturday down the tunnel from the locker rooms and entrance onto the field to be greeted by 106,138 cheering fans, the fifth-largest crowd in Michigan Stadium history.

"It's a feeling you can't describe. It's almost like you have to be there," Wheatley said. "It's very intense in there and it's very pumped."

"In practice when we had our final scrimmage I visualized what it would be like in that tunnel and even when the stadium wasn't full I visualized it. During the game it was what I expected it to be and a little more."

And don't forget the ecstasy of beating Notre Dame. Wheatley, his freshmen teammates and the fifth-year seniors are the only players on the team to taste victory in the annual Notre Dame clash following four straight years of defeat.

Surprisingly, Wheatley said he didn't get many words of advice on what to expect in his first home experience and first Notre Dame game.

"Everybody has let me go by myself," he said. "They want to see if you can handle the pressure on your own and that's one thing I like about the guys. They have a lot of confidence in me so they let me make my own decisions."

After the game, former Robichaud teammates Jamal Bohannon, Kevin Bradley, Steven Gill, Derrick Rendles, Alex White and Joe Reyna were outside the Michigan locker room to greet Wheatley.

"I think he feels more confident because he's gotten used to playing already," Bohannon said. "He knows Powers pretty well and he'll be there if Ricky gets hurt. His time will come."

Next lesson for young Wheatley and the Wolverines: a clash with top-ranked Florida State next Saturday at Michigan Stadium. Wheatley already has a Notre Dame victory and would love to be part of the first Michigan national championship team.

"They're two different games but now I have another game under my belt," he said. "I'm getting a little playing time in as a true freshman and it feels good."

Wyandotte next

Wayne gridders come home, 2-0

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

After two games on the road, Wayne Memorial will return home Friday night to host Wyandotte, a team that "has dedicated the season to beating Wayne."

"We beat them a year ago," said Wayne coach Chuck Howton, "and they won the league title. So what we're hearing is that they've dedicated the season to beat us."

And, after the way the defending Wolverine 'A' Conference champs mauled Belleville (28-0) last week, Howton said that his club better be ready.

"They have an excellent running game and an outstanding fullback," Howton said. "Our defense will have their hands full."

Wayne will place a modest 2-0 record on the block against the Bruins. The Zebras erupted for two touchdowns in the first quarter, added eight points in the next, then hung on to a 20-12 victory over Trenton in the conference opener for both teams last Friday.

Wayne quarterback Jason Wetmore and Eric Bates combined on a 31-yard touchdown pass with 3:48 remaining in the first-quarter for the first Zebra TD. Wetmore's kick for the extra point sailed wide of the uprights.

A Trenton fumble on its own 20-yard line late in the quarter offered Wayne its second scoring opportunity. After Lee Williams muscled his way to the 3-yard line, Wetmore then took it to the one where, on the next play tailback Germaine Ellis powered his way off-tackle into the end zone.

Wetmore again failed on the extra-point try, however, the Zebras had a 12-0 advantage.

Ellis scored what proved to be the final Wayne TD of the game midway in the second frame on a 2-yard plunge. Again, it was a Trenton turnover in the form of a fumble that set up the opportunity. The Wayne tailback came right back with almost the same pattern to account for the two-point conversion.

Wayne went into the locker room with an impressive 20-0 lead.

In the second half Wayne kept "shooting itself in the leg," according to Howton.

"We had our chances, but we committed some foolish mistakes."

The Zebras had a touchdown called back on a holding infraction that erased Rick Barnes' superb 52-yard TD run.

Trenton averted the shutout thanks to Bob Suderby, who dashed over the Zebra goal line from the 4-yard line with 2:38 left in the third period. And a bad snap offered the Trojans a second TD opportunity when they recovered the ball on the 16. A Jeff Manns-to-tight end Brian Nagy gave them a 10-yard score.

Ellis led Wayne ballcarriers with 77 yards on 19 attempts, while Williams finished with 76 yards on 11 tries.

But Wetmore and his receivers had their problems. The Wayne QB went to the airways 15 times and found receivers only three times for 52 yards.

Defensive standouts included Mike Martin, a cornerback who picked off one pass; Johnny Ballard, whose bone-jarring tackles could be heard in the press box; Murdank Forrest, a nose guard, Bates, a defensive end, and Scott Bziedziec also played pivotal roles in the victory.

In other conference action, Wyandotte stopped the Belleville air assault and came away a 28-0 winner over the Tigers.

"It was a disappointing game for us," said Belleville coach Sam Villa. "I don't think we got within their 30."

Running back Lee Bradford was one of the bright spots in the dismal Belleville effort. He rushed for 94 yards on 12 carries. On defense, tackle Al Barnett and middle linebacker Steve Wygonik each had nine tackles for the Tigers.

Hawks show they're No. 1

By DOUG CHURCH
ANP Staff Writer

Plymouth Salem used a solid defense and an inspired effort Saturday to challenge Farmington Hills Harrison, the top-ranked high school team in the state, but it wasn't quite enough.

The Hawks (2-0) led 14-0 at halftime and survived Leon Hister's second-half kickoff return for a touchdown to post a 21-12 victory.

It was a hard-fought game for Harrison, which rolled to a season-opening victory over Birmingham Brother Rice in the Silverdome.

Salem, 1-1 overall and ranked number five in Class AA, used its defense to frustrate an opponent for the second straight week.

Harrison built its first half lead when tailback Roy Granger took a swing pass from quarterback Andy Fitzpatrick and ran 39 yards for a touchdown and Greg Piscopink made a diving catch in the end zone for the other.

But when Hister ran back the second half kickoff 90 yards for a touchdown, Salem trailed just 14-6 after the conversion kick went wide.

The score gave the Rocks a momentum boost. The defense stopped the Hawks from getting a first down the first two times they had the ball in the third quarter.

But Harrison, showing why it is still the best team, finally broke through with an 11-play, 80-yard drive capped by Granger's 1-yard scoring run that made it 21-6 early in the fourth quarter. The key play was a 24-yard pass from Fitzpatrick to Matt Gordon.

Salem, which gained 118 of its 162 total yards in the second half, stayed in the game with a four-play, 45-yard scoring drive midway through the final quarter. Hister ran 14 yards for the score but the conversion pass was intercepted.

Chip Wadowski's interception at the Salem 31-yard line gave the Rocks another chance with 2:57 left but were forced to punt three plays later.

The Hawks outgained Salem 191-131 on the ground in the game and Fitzpatrick completed 10 of 19 passes for 125 yards and two touchdowns. Granger gained 77 yards on 23 carries and caught four passes for 51 yards.

For Salem, Hister finished with 67 yards rushing on 12 carries. Fullback Dan Burke ran for an additional 48 yards. Quarterback Pete Zantop was 3-of-9 passing for 31 yards.

Salem will begin a difficult stretch of games within the Lakes Division tomorrow night at home against North Farmington at 7:30 p.m. The Rocks then travel to John Glenn Sept. 27 to face the Rockets at 7:30 p.m.

Krug takes on new Taylor dealership

By DOUG CHURCH
ANP Staff Writer

During a period when the economy is down and auto sales figures are on the decline, it takes real courage to pursue a new business venture.

When longtime Dearborn auto dealership figure Sigmund Krug recently saw the opportunity to expand his business in the downriver area and reach a new block of customers, he seized it.

The result is the new Krug Chevrolet-Geo dealership, located at 13801 Telegraph Road in Taylor.

Krug purchased the three-year old building, made some renovations and opened the showroom three weeks ago.

"We cleaned up some offices and freshened up the building with new paint," Krug said, adding he thinks the time was right for expansion. "We think this area is growing and we felt we had the right product for the right area."

"We'll expand our facilities under the right circumstances. As our business goes, so goes expansion."

The building, which was previously the home of Walt Lazar Toyota, was vacant when Krug purchased it.

He said he liked the fact that the building is located on five acres of land, thereby making expansion of the facility a future possibility.

As is the case with all of Krug's business operations, his family was a big reason for wanting to expand. Krug's son Mike is the general manager and vice-president of the new dealership and his other son Gregg is the general manager of the Lincoln Mercury dealership.

"Family is the greatest thing in the world," Sigmund Krug said. "That's the reason we expand. It's all for the family in the long run. My sons started working here when they were boys and now my granddaughter Jani and grandson Bryan are working here. I look forward to having future grandchildren working here."

In addition to the new dealership, Sigmund Krug is also enjoying the early success of his one-year-old automotive body shop, located at 14641 Prospect in Dearborn.

The 47 workers in this new facility, which is open from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, handle all of the body shop work that was previously performed at Krug Lincoln Mercury and Sigmund Dodge in addition to much more.

Sigmund Krug said the facility is one of the largest and most modern of its kind in the country. This accounts for some astonishing productivity statistics.

Workers in the 40,000-square-foot facility have the capability to service over 200 cars a week. It features a computerized paint analysis, which in conjunction with Sherwin Williams Paints, will match any color paint on any car.

"The name of the game is service," Mike Krug said. "Everybody's a preferred customer and we don't want to have them unsatisfied or having to wait long for service. We do all repairs at this facility."

This is nothing new to the business philosophy of Sigmund Krug, who says he's aggressive when he rises to a new challenge but always puts the comfort and satisfaction of the customer first.

This explains the cleanliness of all Krug facilities. Floors are spotless and noise is kept from the ears of customers who wait in designated areas away from service machinery.

"We've really cut down on the noise level at all of our facilities," Sigmund Krug said. "Times have changed. Twenty years ago, people didn't worry about noise or whether everything was clean. But now, people want to be comfortable and in an aesthetically nice place. They don't want to see dirt on the ground."

Sigmund Krug has had an automotive dealership in Dearborn since 1961 and has been in the business since 1954. He took over as general manager of the Mulligan Lincoln Mercury dealership on Michigan Avenue in 1967 and purchased it in 1977.

Since that time, he has remodeled the facility, including rebuilding the showroom. The birth of Sigmund Dodge took place around this same time in 1982, when Krug took over another existing dealership in east Dearborn and soon after converted it to its present appearance.
